14. PROJECT DESCRIPTION: (Provide a description of the project and all its components.)

This project supports the Royal Government of Cambodia to strengthen capacities and systems for managing multiples sources of development finance in the context of attaining Middle Income Country status. Working with CRDB/CDC, the project supports the production, analysis and management of data, information and knowledge that can inform resource allocation and programme implementation to ensure increased support to targeting of expenditure towards programmes that promote poverty reduction and inclusive sustainable growth, specifically in support of the RS-3 and NSDP as well as the localisation of the SDGs. The project supports: (a) institutional strengthening to manage and align diverse sources of development finance with the national budget, the NSDP & SDGs; (b) resource mobilisation and management related to public sector component of the Industrial Development Policy; and (c) continued implementation of development effectiveness objectives through the Development Cooperation & Partnerships Strategy.

15. PROJECT JUSTIFICATION: (Give reasons why this particular project is considered worthwhile.)

There was a clear understanding that the role of ODA and DPs was evolving just as Cambodia’s own development progress and emerging opportunities and challenges. Under this context, the RGC and DPs agree that support government capacities to mobilize, coordinate and manage these partnerships are of utmost necessary to account for (a) national ownership and capacity; (b) an increasing diversity of development finance source (both domestic and external); and (c) the rising complexity of Cambodia’s own sustainable development challenges associated with coordinating and implementing policy priorities such as Industrial Development Policy.

In this regard, the three year-project entitled “Partnerships for Development Results Phase 2 (PfDR2)” was agreed and designed to support the RGC in strengthening capacities and systems for managing multiples sources of development finance in the context of attaining Middle Income Country status. In so doing, the project works with CRDB/CDC to support the implementation of the Development Cooperation & Partnerships Strategy which is the main focus of CRDB/CDC, the production, analysis and management of data information and knowledge that can inform resource allocation and programme implementation to ensure increased support to targeting of expenditure towards programmes that promote poverty reduction and inclusive sustainable growth, specifically in support of the Rectangular Strategy Phase III and the NSDP as well as the localization of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

RGC institutions and capacities are strengthened to manage and align diverse development finance sources with the national budget, the NSDP & SDGs

CRDB/CDC Capacity Strategy (2016-2018) implemented and regularly monitored to ensure capacity in line with “Institutional mechanisms in place to manage the transition in composition of ODA and to expand access to other sources of global development financing”

Development Finance Assessment (DFA) was completed to inform RGC resource mobilization and management as part of MIC transition and LDC graduation,

MEF leads on implementation of DFA findings and recommendations, including to inform the budget. PfDR is supporting MOP on SDG localisation and new NSDP formulation to include development finance issues.

KD 2: CDC capacity is strengthened to support implementation of reforms related to the Industrial Development Policy and mobilisation of public resources in accordance with the IDP objectives.

PfDR also supports the IDP Secretariat to inform resource mobilization from RGC and PS to support the IDP.

IDP implemented as per CRDB/CDC mandate including to develop the policy framework for the Public Investment Plan and to guide work on investing in value chains as part of a Targeted Investment Promotion Strategy.

KD 3: The DCPS is implemented resulting in enhanced development results (relevant to LDC graduation) as measured through the NSDP and DCPS results framework.
